WRIGHT'S
Indian Vegetable Pills,
OR INDIAN PURGATIVE.

THOUGH many mediums have been before the public for a much longer period than Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, yet none stands now in higher repute, or has more rapidly attained a firm hold upon popular estimation. The thousands that have used them throughout the length and breadth of the Republic, all bear cheerful testimony to their thorough efficacy and rapid restoration, when employed in the most distressing disorders which flesh is heir to. To those, however, who have not used them, who are suffering from incipient or advanced stages of disease, and who are looking round for weapons wherewith to combat the Destroyer—intelligent inquirers, who must be satisfied with the theory and principle of a course of medical treatment, before they commence, it becomes necessary to make a few preliminary remarks on this popular medicine.

The theory of disease on which WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are founded is this, viz: "That there is only one primary cause of all the disorders which afflict the human family, and that is corrupt humors—in other words, impurity of blood. This principle is now so generally admitted, that it may in fact be said to be sustained by an universality of opinion—the few dissenters constituting but a very feeble minority. It is useless, therefore, to discuss the soundness of this theory in this place and connection.

The ONE DISEASE PRINCIPLE being admitted, the mode of attack proposed by all practitioners becomes the same, viz: Purgation. But many of the so called specifics now before the public produce only one form of purgation; they are either Sudorific, Cathartic, Diuretic or Expectorant—Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills combine all these properties, and are therefore calculated to attack the elements of disease at all points, and be a harmonious and combined operation, to expel it effectually from the system. Their effect is almost universal, and is no less astonishing for its mildness than its efficacy—Pills varying and adapting very employed according to the direction without fear, for while they are certain to cure ALL DISEASES that are remediable, they never inflict an injury upon the system!

The ORIGIN of this invaluable medicine entitles it to unlimited confidence and respect. The reason we approach to nature, in our researches after truth both in science and art, the more complete will be our success in both. Look at the uniform physical condition of the Indian Tribes of this continent, whether exposed to the frosts and storms of the North, or to the rain, heat, and pestilential miasma of Southern climate. Homeless, unprotected, exposed to every atmospheric change, every extreme of the seasons, dwelling at times in morasses and by the margins of unhealthy pools and swamps—they yet enjoy an almost total immunity from disease—while the white man, who enjoys all the comforts of civilization, with the Medical Society, is as much inferior to the savage in physical vigor, as he is superior to him in intellectual acquisitions—How does this happen? Simply because, guided by the light of science, he relies upon that divine impulse which impels him to select from the productions of the field and forest those herbs which Nature and Nature's God has bountiously provided for the solace of suffering, and the mitigation and cure of those maladies which the Maker of all, in His wisdom, has allotted to the Children of Adam for their safety. Let those who uniformly arraign the goodness of Divine Providence and point with a sneer to the multitude of invalids who fill groaning couches of sickness, turn from the false lights of man, and study the secrets of nature, and they will adore the mercy which has so bountifully provided, in every form of disease, a remedy for all who will use.

These Pills, as we believe, searched operate by purgation—by thoroughly cleansing the entire system from all impurities, and making the invalid, in the homely but expressive phrase, "a new man." Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, "PURGATIVE PILLS," which insidiously attacks the Lungs, producing that dry, hacking cough so painful to the friends, and so fatal to the patient, will find in them a powerful ally in the arrest of the disease. Dyspepsia, whether the Kidneys or the Bowels be affected—Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are equally efficacious in warding off danger. Their expectorant, cathartic, sudorific and diuretic qualities enable them to take hold of each form of disease.

The perfect safety of the medicine is another all important quality, and one which has contributed more than any thing else to its extension and popularity.

In a word, this medicine commends itself strongly to the patronage of the public, and its use bids fair to become, before long, ALMOST UNIVERSAL.

CAUTION:

The citizens of New England are respectfully informed that, in consequence of the great popularity which Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills have gained, by their astonishing goodness, a range of Counterfeits are now industriously engaged in palming on the unsuspecting a VALUELESS and perhaps dangerous medicine, under the name of Indian Vegetable Pills.

BEWARE OF A L. NORCROSS, of Halowell, Maine, who is selling COUNTERFEIT PILLS.

This is to inform the public that the genuine medicine has on the boxes—

"WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS."
—Indian Purgative
OF THE NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH.

And also, around the border of the label will be found in small type—

"Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1840, by William Wright, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania."

The public will also remember, that all who sell the genuine Indian Vegetable Pills are provided with a certificate of Agency, signed by

WILLIAM WRIGHT, Vice President of the North American College of Health.

And that pedlars are never in any case allowed to sell the genuine medicine. All traveling Agents will be provided with a certificate of agency, as above described, and those who cannot show one will be known as base impostors.

The following highly respectable persons have been appointed Agents for the sale of the above named

A correspondent of the Portland Advertiser relates an amusing incident, which occurred at Waterville a short time since. Mr. Clifford, a democratic member of Congress from Maine was making a political speech, in the course of which he denounced the present Tariff in unmeasured terms. After displaying his hand in this way for some time, it seems he caught a Tartar, for a Locofoco from the Town of Clinton called upon him to explain what had caused the difference in the price of wool? as he said he had sold for 25 cents in 1841, and this year he sold it for 40 cents. Mr. Clifford resumed and said that Germany had put on a protective or high Tariff, which caused the rise of wool in that country and in Europe, and that was the cause of the rise of wool here! and not the present Tariff. The inquirer thereupon asked Mr. C. if a protective Tariff in Germany would cause the rise of wool, why might there not be the same effect from a similar Tariff here? This time Clifford shack, and the only answer was, that "the individual who propounded that question was a Whig!" The man however declared that he had always been a Loco, but if no other answer could be given to his questions he had got the wool off from his eyes!

The St. Louis Reporter gives the names of the members elect of the Missouri Legislature and claims them thus: Benton 62, Whigs and anti-Benton, 70; majority against Benton 8

It asserts that "Benton has no chance for re-election unless he can traffic with the Whigs, and it is for members of that party to determine whether they will bargain with him."

Distinguished Stranger.

The Democratic reading room, was crowded Monday evening by the presence of a live coon. An artist was immediately called in, who drew his likeness, which is to be presented to each member of the Vigilance Committee, in consideration of their valuable services.

Subscribers to the Democrat may expect a copy gratis in their next, week's paper

It has been suggested, that the attitude in which the coon is presented, is faulty, as being unnatural. The artist has studied sentiment, rather than grace. The attitude is emblematic, of good principles which are looking up!

If more grace had been studied, the attitude most appropriate would have been while resenting the insults offered it?

Then it shew itself as no common animal, so terrible was its wrath! that the locos fled in presence! And had he not been lame it is imagined that he would have driven them all from the room. We are glad to learn that there were but three injured and hope this will serve as a caution never to trifle with a coon. R.

Dr Stephen Sewall of Scarborough.

The following notice of Dr Stephen Sewall late of Scarborough in this State who died on the 10th of August in the 72d year of his age, we find in the Saco Democrat. Dr Sewall was well known in this city and had here a large number of personal and ardent friends:—

Another star has fallen from that bright constellation of spirits which has shed the light of truth and science upon a world of ignorance and error. As such, the death of Dr Sewall deserves something more than a mere passing notice. He was born in the town of Portsmouth, N. H., Jan. 1st, 1772. Of his earlier life I have but a slight acquaintance, but we are informed that he learned the art of printing and pursued that business with credit to himself in various places in New England. Early in the year of 1816, he commenced the publication of a weekly paper in Portsmouth, which he edited with much ability, entitled the "Literary Mirror."—Imitating the example of the illustrious Franklin, Mr Sewall applied himself to his arduous duties with a zeal and perseverance rarely equalled. Such were his habits for industry, that for a considerable period, he edited, set up and printed his paper, entirely alone. An early copy of the Mirror lies before me, and for interesting and varied composition, taste in arrangement and mechanical execution, it will favorably compare with some of our best publications of the present day. In 1811, he became acquainted with Dr Samuel Thomson, the celebrated founder of the Thomsonian system of medical practice. He was introduced to Dr Thomson by a mutual friend, and solicited to open the columns of his paper for the defence of the new and curious practice. Being of an enquiring mind, and having his curiosity somewhat excited by the favorable accounts given of Mr Sewell, he was induced to investigate the matter for his own satisfaction. For this purpose went with Dr Thomson to visit several of his patients and witnessed the effects of his medicines, and his peculiar mode of treatment. After a successful one of these visits, attentively followed up, Mr Sewell became an ardent admirer of the system, and not long after openly and fearlessly came out in its defence. He abandoned the publication of his paper, and associated himself with Dr Thomson in the practice of medicine. From that time until quite recently—he has been an active practitioner, and has defended the new system with great ability.

Some time near the close of the last war Dr Sewell visited Scarborough. At the time, a fearful epidemic was raging among the inhabitants with unabating fury. The exertions of the physicians of the place had proved unavailing, and the sick and dying were found in nearly every house. He immediately entered upon an extensive practice, and his efforts were crowned with the most astonishing success. He eventually took up his residence in this place, where he resumed until the time of his death, beloved by all who knew him and esteemed as a worthy and highminded citizen. Dr Sewall has ever exhibited, both in conversation and writings, a clear and vigorous intellect; he was continuous, affectionate and humane—a practical Christian—a tender and devoted husband, and a kind, prudent and affectionate parent.

During the last year, his health, which had ever been more or less feeble, has been gradually declining. About four months since he sustained a severe affliction in the death of his oldest son (Dr John Sewall, of Bangor,) a youth in whom time has hardly faded, and as a result of his extreme debility, had recently exhibited a degree of aberration of mind. He has left a large circle of friends and acquaintances, who deeply lament his loss. May the event be sanctified to their individual good. G. W.-C.

The Sea Serpent has again made his appearance near Boothbay.

Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY—This is a chemical extract from Wild Cherry and Tar. Every body knows that wild Cherry possesses important medicinal properties—and Tar Water has always been administered in consumption and lung affections generally, by our oldest & safest physicians. This preparation embodies all the virtues of Tar and Wild Cherry in a much smaller compass than any other ever produced. The manner of preparing it, and its success in all Pulmonary and Liver affections, Emphatically prove this—We say confidently, no medicine ever effected such wonderful cures. Let no one give up to Consumption's fatal grasp without giving this a trial. Being formed from vegetable substances, congenial at once to our soil and our system, it is safe, simple, and efficient. A treatise relating to this subject may be had, without charge of any who also is agent for the Balsam. Call and see it. Be sure to get Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, as there are imitations abroad.
